One: How very good and pleasant it is when kindred live together in unity!

Many: How very good and wonderful it is when we live together in God's love!

One: For God to create us and call us community,

Many: For God to call us and gather us together as neighbors,

One: How very good and pleasant it is, when God's people come together in God's name.

Many: We gather this morning, with different experiences, different opinions, and different stories,

One: We gather together this morning with different needs, different dreams, different struggles,

Many: And yet, we gather together this morning, with one hope, one faith, and one love.

One: Holy God, call us together as we gather in worship this day.

Many: Come, together, let us worship our God!

Special Music How Great Thou Art Valery Welch
Prayer of Confession Oak Hill Community

Holy God, with love and care, you created us to be your beloved community. And we have rejected one another, we have taken advantage of one another, and we have failed to treat each other with respect and compassion. For the harm we have done, we ask for your mercy. For the divisions we now experience, we ask for your healing. We lament the ways we have allowed power, greed, jealousy, control, and hate to corrupt your dream of peace, unity, and abundance for your people. Forgive us and help us to change. Help us to see your divine presence in each of our neighbors. Help us to repair relationships and restore trust. Help us to live out your call for our lives together. Amen.
